Disgusting Behaviour in the Tulsa County Jail

A few weeks ago we posted an affidavit from a federal court case outlining horrific acts in the Tulsa County Jail. After the newsletter went out we learned that the amount of traffic basically overwhelmed the server hosting the scanned files so we figured out how to convert the scan to word so we can post it in text in the newsletter.

One ought not to place faith in authority because these men and women are human as the rest of us. Reading through this affidavit should show you what happens when we don't have a concerned citizenry and a working press safeguarding our society and holding officials accountable.

Keep in mind that many of the people mentioned in this 2012 affidavit are still employed by the Tulsa Sheriff office. This affidavit was transferred from a scan of the document by OCR technology so there might be some typos in the text.

AFFIDAVIT OF SHANNON MOODY STATE OF OKLAHOMA )

SS.

COUNTY OF TULSA )

1. My name is Shannon Moody. I am a Caucasian female and I was employed with Tulsa County Sheriff's Office (TCSO) as a Detention officer from July 1, 2005 -until I was terminated in April 2007. I was previously employed with Corrections Corporation of America (CCA) for two years before TCSO took over, I have experience as a detention officer working in both the booking department and master control, I also worked in the pods when extra help was needed but mainly worked in Master Control and booking.

2, I have personal knowledge of the facts in this Affidavit.

3. V T was married to another officer named Aaron Moody while employed with TCSO. Both of us were on the SORT team with Captain Huckleby and other Caucasian officers. While I was on the SORT team, before I became pregnant, commonly witnessed Captain. Huckleby and other Caucasian officers go into African American inmate's cells and physically assault them for no reason. There was no reason that Captain Huckleby should have entered the cells, as there was a small door where items could be passed through and the inmates and officers could speak through the doors without opening them. Captain Huckleby was the main officer who would assault the African American inmates, and there would rarely be an incident report made and the nurses in medical would never be called, even though the inmate would be swollen and it was obvious he had been beaten up. Captain Huckleby would, do this unprovoked. Captain Huckleby would mainly do it in segregation where there are no cameras and the majority of inmates are African American. If in the rare occasion Huckleby did fill out an incident report, I was told that he was to fill it out first and myself and the other officers were to corroborate Huckleby's version of the facts, which were not usually accurate. This was in direct violation of policy, as medical was to be called any time there was an altercation of any sort or any inmate was injured. Further, policy required an incident report to be filled out every time an altercation occurred, Captain Huckleby was in direct violation of policy and so were the other Caucasian officers who participated in the physical assaults who were not disciplined.

4, After I became pregnant, I was placed in Master Control as it was considered a light duty position. I was able to work in master control throughout my entire pregnancy and even after I returned from a three-month maternity leave. While working in master control, Huckleby instructed that I watch certain detention officers, mainly African American officers for hours at a time to try and catch them doing something wrong. Also while in Master Control, numerous Caucasian individuals who needed light duty were transferred in to work with me, accommodations being made for their injuries. There were never African American employees who needed light duty transferred into master control while I was employed. Furthermore, limited knowledge of master control operations was required as long as two people were working the shift but there were always two people working the shift because it was policy. I commonly worked with Caucasian individuals on light duty who had little to no experience in master control. Anything they needed to know I could show them fairly quickly. There were also other areas where I observed Caucasian individuals in need of light duty be assigned to work such as booking, three separate control booths in the segregation unit, the front lobby, intake, training, and visitation. I personally worked in the control booths in the segregation unit while pregnant and was allowed to wear street clothes, which was a requirement while you were on light duty. Specific Caucasian individuals I recall receiving light duty and working in master control and booking are Matthew Major, Mick Bonxiin, and Dena Webb. I also know for a fact there are others; I just cannot recall their names. Bonnin had a knee injury and Webb injured her shoulder.

5. While working for TCSO, witnessed numerous Caucasian employees violate TCSO policies and receive no discipline for their actions. In Master Control I witnessed numerous Caucasian sergeants fail to fill out their log books or fill them out after the fact, lying about the number of times they went to their pods, and they received no discipline whatsoever. Caucasian employees constantly brought contraband into the jail such as cigarettes or items for the inmates and they were not disciplined. In fact, there was a place in housing where Caucasian employees would commonly smoke and not receive discipline. I also observed Caucasian employees go behind closed doors with inmates, such as the staff bathroom and there was never any discipline issued, despite this being against policy and there being absolutely no reason for a staff member and an inmate to go into the staff bathroom together. I also observed many of the Caucasian men in booking use tobacco products and "dip" in front of their supervisors and were not disciplined.

6. While I worked in master control, the sergeants were supposed to walk through the pods at least once a day. By working in Master Control I was aware that due to staffing numbers, sergeants weren't able to check their pods more than once a day. The three pods.

7. The usage of the word "nigger" to refer to African American inmates and officers was rampant in the jail by Caucasian Captains, Caucasian Sergeants, and Caucasian Detention officers. I commonly heard Captains Huckleby and Devoe refer to African Americans as "niggers". I also commonly heard racist jokes being told and other terminology such as the word "nappy" to refer to African Americans. During training in a squad meeting, the individual doing the training began talking about how African Americans ate fried chicken and watermelon and smoked Newport brand cigarettes. I walked out of the training I was so upset by the racial stereotyping going on. The word nigger was commonly used by the employees in booking. I cannot say enough that the word ran rampant within the booking department.

8. I worked third shift, which was from 3:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. I observed that the first shift which was the "midnight shift" or 11:00 p.m. until 7:00 a.m. shift was made up mostly of African American employees. I remember thinking it was strange that so many African Americans worked that shift.

9. It was common knowledge around the jail that Captain Huckleby maintained a "would ya" list containing names of female officers who would sleep with him or who he would sleep with. I heard that my name was on this list and I confronted Huckleby about it. When confronted, Huckleby became wide-eyed and flat out admitted it and walked away. While working in master control, I could zoom in on Captain Huckleby out in the parking lot and I commonly observed him kissing and performing other sexual acts with various women in the parking lot. In fact, sex was also rampant within the jail. among Captain Huckleby and his group of Caucasian followers that we deemed the nickname "Hucklebabies" for this and other various reasons. Included in this group, which was entirely Caucasian, were my husband, Aaron Moody, Derek Devoe, Justin Kaczynski, Berkowitz, Kyle Dobson, Sheila Dobson, Bobby Sappington, Shannon Clark, Steven Norwood, Patricia Owens, Matthew Tryon, Deana Wood, Michael Bonnin, Linda Devoe, Roger Fetterhoff, Anthony Harper, Gary Kaiser, Oliver Newton. It was common knowledge that if you were in this group, you were on Huckleby's good side as long as you did what he wanted you to do. I know this because while I was married to Aaron Moody, I was included in this group. There were absolutely no African American officers included in this group.

10. Whenever Huckleby wanted to get rid of someone who didn't listen to his orders, like his instructions to write up African Americans for nothing, or if someone complaining to a superior or internal affairs about him, he would find a way to get rid of them. This usually started with that person getting transferred into housing and then receiving write-ups until they were terminated. I complained to Fetterhoff and Kitch hi internal affairs about the sexual incidents I had caught Captain Huckleby engaging in and I was soon after transferred to housing and then I was disciplined for accepting a phone call from an inmate for which I received prior approval from my immediate supervisor, Sergeant Darby, and I was terminated.

11. There were numerous incidents that I observed while in master control with sexual acts would transpire between the Caucasian male officers and female civilians, including nurses who worked in medical. I have knowledge that Chief Albin knew that Captain Huckleby and others were engaging in sexual acts at work and nothing was being done to stop it. There were two sections in the jail where there weren't cameras and they were segregation and an area underground called the pipe chase. The pipe chase was underneath the pods. You could only get down to the pipe chase with special keys. I have direct knowledge that Caucasian male officers, including Captain Huckleby would go to the pipe chase and to segregation with Sheila Dobson and other Caucasian female officers to engage in sexual activity because I would have to check the keys out to them. There was no reason for Huckleby to be down in the pipe chase, only maintenance would go down there, and if there was an issue with the pipes or water, and Huckleby needed to be there, I would have known since I was in master control. When Huckleby was going down to segregation or the pipe chase it was always for no apparent reason and he was accompanied by a female officer. The sexual activity in the jail was rampant and Chief Albin knew, so did Huckleby, as he took part in it and the two of them encouraged other Caucasian male officers to participate in this behavior. None of these men received discipline to my knowledge, and most are still currently employed with the jail.

12. I have general knowledge that Captain Huckleby and Haley Collins were involved in a car accident in the early hours of the morning, driving Sergeant Landsdown's corvette, This was swept under the rug so to speak and Huckleby never received discipline for it.

13. A Caucasian female detention officer, Ivy Brook-Eaton, was permitted to read a sexually explicit book in booking and was not disciplined, despite this being contraband and against TCSO policy. I also observed her passing notes to police officers bringing in new inmates that propositioned sex stating, "A ride for a ride." I was appalled this was permitted to occur in the booking department. with the inmates all the time. This is common at the jail and I observed it while working in master control,

15. Regarding lunch breaks, it was common practice for me to leave the facility while I worked in master control to get lunch for the booking department would sometimes be gone for over an hour and I was never disciplined. Lunch was never offered to the officers in housing. Whenever I asked off for vacation, it was granted and never had to turn in a vacation request form sixty-days before the requested days off. In fact, sometimes I would be told to fill paperwork out after I returned from my vacation days. Also, when my husband and I were married, we worked the same shift and conunonly requested the same vacation days off and our requests were granted. It was common practice for Caucasian employees to fail to complete requests for days off or required paperwork within the jail without the consequence of discipline. I also have specific knowledge that when a position in booking would open up, the detention officers and sergeant would all sit around and discuss who we wanted placed in booking. I witnessed some transfer requests get thrown in the trash if someone did not like the person who applied. Most if not all of the employees in booking were Caucasian and it was considered the best department to be assigned.

16. Snide remarks about Wimberly were commonly made in my presence by Fluckeby and Devoe.

17. - Anything further, affiant saith not.

HSUS Damned by A.G.'s Office but Training Police Officers?

Human Society of the United States Training Police Officers after Attorney General Scott Pruitt Issued a Consumer Alert Against them?

Back in 2014 HSUS was the target of a consumer alert issued by the Oklahoma Attorney General office with the state claiming the HSUS organization deceives donors with pitiful images of dogs and cats then funnels the donated money into radical animal liberation movements and attacks farmers and ranchers. In the 2014 A.G. consumer alert it was said that HSUS was misleading donors after the Moore tornadoes, telling them the money would go to local Humane Society chapters to care for dislocated animals.

So we were surprised to see local law enforcement and CLEET participating a program put on by HSUS in the Lawton area last week. The training occurred at the Great Plains Technology Center and covered puppy mills, dog fighting, chicken fighting, and animal abuse. The attendees were taught how to collect evidence and how to “interpreting” cruelty laws. The course claimed that there is a link between animal cruelty and other abuse by serial rapists, school shooters, and killers.

Here is a list of agencies that showed up and took the training:

Lawton Police Department, Comanche County Sheriff's Office, Comanche Nation Police and other Comanche County police departments in Sterling, Elgin, Cache, Geronimo and Chattanooga.

Activists that are working to expose the HSUS agenda have shown that 85% of the images ran in the HSUS marketing were cats and dogs but say that HSUS doesn't run a single animal shelter. It gives around one percent of its income to animal shelters and spends millions attacking farming/ranching practices and conducting anti hunting campaigns.

A group called Chairity Watch gave HSUS a D rating for spending less than 50% of its funds on programs and around 43% of the money it raises on overhead. Between 1998 and 2009 the agency funneled 16.3 million dollars into its executive pension fund and gave one million dollars less than that to local pet shelters in the same period.

Using pictures of cats and dogs in its marketing allows HSUS to raise millions a year to spend on anti farming/ranching, promoting vegan diets, and anti hunting/fishing legislative efforts. Yet when Michael Vick was released from prison after a conviction for dog fighting the HSUS claimed Vick was rehabilitated after a 50 thousand dollar grant was given from the Philadelphia Eagles.

HSUS senior management includes a former spokesperson for the Animal Liberation Front (ALF), a group designate as terrorists by the FBI. The group recently had their charity rating canceled by one outstanding charity rating group after HSUS settled a Racketeering and Corrupt Practices lawsuit \(RICO\) suit and paying millions of dollars to settle the lawsuit.

CLEET needs to cancel any other training sessions under the auspices of HSUS until these concerns are addressed.

Accused Pervert Strangled at the Oklahoma City Jail? What, the Guy thinks he is a State Senator and can Get Away with This Stuff?

Fifty eight year old Dale Schmidt was killed at Sheriff Whetsel's jail last week, allegedly hung in his jail cell, but inside sources are claiming the guy was strangled with a phone cord and that nothing was present in his cell that could be used for hanging himself.

Schmidt had been arrested after allegedly attempting to molest a 13 year old boy and the death has been labeled suicide by the OSBI and was said to be the only one in that cell. Really, after all the reports of overcrowding in the cells they can house a single inmate in a cell?

Inside sources claim that the pay phones are in a common area of the jail and closely supervised and that the only area where strangulation could take place out of view of the cameras is a day room. One wonders if it was the other inmates or jailers performing some street justice.

Regardless the State Senate finds itself one less candidate for the next election and Whetsel's inattention to the jail enables another life to be lost be it not much of a loss for society.

Bennett 2nd Town Hall A Success

The March 17th Town Hall/Debate went off as planned on Thursday night with once again the citizens of Sequoyah County wondering where Democratic challenger Tom Stites was hiding. Despite the quarter page ad in the county newspaper Tom Stites refused once more to face the citizens in a format where anyone could ask a question. Stites has agreed to a debate where the questions are given in advance, in writing no less, and the media decides which ones to ask the candidates. However the debate Stites likes is being sponsored by three organizations, two of which have been openly hostile to the incumbent Republican and supportive of the Democrat challenger.

A small crowd of about 35 attended, including one reporter from the county newspaper and another from a smaller Roland newspaper, both owned by the Mayo family of Sallisaw. The meeting was videotaped and put up on Youtube by Bryan Mayberry of Claremore. Now Bryan was the same guy that taped that arrogant Senator Yen in the debate in Tulsa a few months back. Subscribe to his channel because he does some really good work exposing bad government.

You can watch the hour long video at this link.

124 Americans Killed by Released Illegal Aliens

Over 100 illegal aliens caught and released by the Obama administration have subsequently been charged with murder after they were released and allowed to remain in the country. Two had been convicted of murder before they were released and went on another murder spree. The rest of the illegals racked up 464 separate crimes prior to being charged with murder. The Center for Immigration Studies looked over information released by Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

ICE commonly releases illegal aliens on bond or on their own recognizance while awaiting deportation hearings. Another 156 illegals were caught and released TWICE and those illegals averaged another 11 criminal charges per person. The charges were for drunk driving, drug offenses, burglary, theft and larceny, and sex offenses. ICE claims that they can't hold an illegal indefinitely and sometimes the home country will refuse to repatriate the offender.

Homeland Security Scrubs its Files of Suspected Islamic Terror Suspects

By the Watchman

We find once again that we must disgust the people who are supposed to protect this country against all enemies both foreign and domestic. What we found shows a complete lack of concern for the safety and wellbeing of every American who resides in this great country. We find another un-Constitutional government agency committing acts of treason so egregious that it should be dismantled and never be replaced. Common sense no longer guides the halls of power in the Nation's Capital. Everything appears to be guided by the Southern Poverty Law Center and a group known as C.A.I.R. This madness has got to stop.

The first indication we had of the seriousness of the problem was this story here Obama DHS scrubs records of hundreds of Muslim terrorists. They not only scrubbed the records of counter jihad-terrorist programs, they also scrubbed the records of Muslim terrorist. Then after the Christmas day attempted terrorist underwear bombing of a flight from Europe to Detroit, the President threw the intelligence agencies under the bus and blamed the failure of detecting the bomber on them. Nothing is ever his fault. It's been that way his entire political career. He never takes responsibility for his mistakes.

The next article of interest we found was this DHS ordered me to scrub records of Muslims with terror ties | TheHill. This is a report from a whistleblower that states he was ordered to scrub the records of Muslims with terror Ties from the files of the Department of Homeland Security. How insane is this? Instead of making it safer for American citizens as they have taken an oath to do, they deliberately destroy records just to allow terrorist into the country to make us an easy target. That doesn't sound like Homeland Security. That sounds like Homeland Conspiracy.

The next article of interest we found was this Obama's DHS Secretly Scrubbed 1,000 Muslim Terrorist-Tied Names From U.S. Terror Watch Lists - Freedom Outpost. This article indicates that the systematic scrubbing of names associated with terrorism have been scrubbed from the list for years. This report is also the first indication that we have that the investigation into the San Bernadino terrorist was nixed. In short the systematic removal of names from the terrorist watch list led directly to the deaths of Americans by terrorist in a planned attack. The blame can only be placed squarely on the shoulders of the White House and the Department of Homeland Security.

The next article of interest we found was this 72 DHS Employees on 'Terrorist Watch List'? : snopes.com. Now this article actually tries to convince people that there were not people working for Homeland Security that were on the terror watch list. This group is notorious for covering up for the Democratic party. To a point they are correct. The employee's names are not on the Terrorist Watch list, since they've been scrubbed.

The next article of interest we found was this DHS | The Counter Jihad Report. The information here was obtained initially by Judicial Watch in a Freedom of information Act request. It is our recommendation that you subscribe to their newsletter. It's a weekly publication and always contains some good information. We would also recommend that you open this link and read this report. There is more information here than we can put in our newsletter at one time.

The next item of interest we found was this Homeland Security Report Warns Of Rising Right-Wing Extremism. This article shows the backward thinking of the current administration. The protest led by the Tea Party Movement was never violent and never left a mess. They never threatened violence of any nature yet they were considered by Homeland Security as a "Rising Right Wing Extremism." This was during the same time that the Department of Homeland Security was scrubbing names of individuals with terrorist connections from the terrorist watch list. That is completely insane. The only thing it did accomplish was that it opened the eyes of millions of Americans as to how much our politicians were not paying attention to the citizens of this great nation.

The next article of interest we found was this Obama Releases Security Review of Attempted Bombing - ABC News. Once again we find that the president has thrown the intelligence services under the bus and blames them for not detecting the bomb plot before it got off the ground. In reality the blame for this near catastrophe lies with the directive from the Department of Homeland Security and the scrubbing of names from the terrorist watch list. This is one of many examples of how the scrubbing of those names has placed every citizen in this country in danger.

The next article of interest we found was this I could have stopped San Bernardino attack but Feds shut me down, Phil Haney claims | Daily Mail Online. Once again the whistleblower speaks out. His efforts had identified one of the San Bernadino terrorist, but the name was scrubbed by Homeland Security. It was known that his wife was associated with the group that claimed responsibility for the murders. This information was also scrubbed. It is also reported that the Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton, got involved in this fiasco. It is a disaster. There is a conspiracy to overthrow our Constitutional Republic going on and no one is paying attention to it.

We owe our thanks to the diligent work done by Judicial Watch on uncovering these vital documents. Without them we would still be in the blind. Now is the time when all able and good men must come forward to the aid of their country. There is a danger afoot and we must do our best to restore our Constitutional Republic. Homeland Security which is an un-Constitutional organization, is supposed to protect us, instead they'd rather grope children at airports.
